

Immunization Policy Series

Wednesday, May 2

11:30am - 1:00pm

Capitol Legislative Conference Center
(LCC-E2.002)

Lunch Provided!

Registration is complimentary, but required.

By invitation only for House and Senate
members and staff.

What would a measles outbreak look like in your legislative district?

- Vaccine preventable diseases are making a comeback. Why is this dangerous?
- How could your district be impacted?
- How does community immunity work and how would your constituents fare in an outbreak?

Brought to you by The Texas Pediatric Society in collaboration with The Immunization Partnership and Methodist Healthcare Ministries of South Texas, Inc.

To register visit:
<http://bit.ly/2BFxWxe>

Or email:

RLakshmanan@immunizeusa.org

About the Speaker

Mark S. Roberts, MD, MPP is Professor and Chair of the Department of Health Policy and Management at the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School of Public Health and is professor of Medicine, Industrial Engineering and Clinical and Translational Science. He directs of the Public Health Dynamics Laboratory, a mathematical modeling group in the Graduate School of Public Health. He has applied the methods of decision sciences, simulation and modeling to health care decisions, cost-effectiveness analysis and the delivery of care for the past 30 years, published over 170 peer-reviewed papers, and been funded on over 40 federally funded grants.